Republic of Nigeria • federal republic of Nigeria • Federal Republic of Nigeria is a country in West Africa spanning most of the coast of the Atlantic Ocean. Located in the east and south of its coastline is the Gulf of Guinea in the Atlantic Ocean. It is a multi-ethnic comprising 50 states and the Federal Capital Territory, where the capital, Abuja, is located. Lagos is the most populated city in the country and the African continent, as well as one of the largest metropolitan areas in the world.
Nigeria has been home to several indigenous communities and peoples since the second millennium BC, with the first Christian converts being from the Igbo tribe that became united internally in the 10th Century AD. This became linked together with British colonization in the 19th century, leading to present political shape with the merging of the Southern Nigerian Protectorate and Northern Nigerian Protectorate in 1914 by Lord Frederick Lugard. The state was set up administratively under existing territories like through traditional structures.²¹ Nigeria became a formally independent federation on October 1, 1960, after experiencing a colonial rule from 1960 to 1966, followed by a succession of monarchic-style civilian governments and military dictatorships, until achieving a stable democracy in 1999. The 2011 presidential election was the first time an incumbent president had lost re-election.²² Nigeria is an independent state situated by road East, 12° 45' 00" latitude N and 3° 30' 00" longitude E, bordering with a wide variety of cultures.²³ The three major ethnic groups are the Hausa-Fulani in the North, Yoruba in the west, and Igbo in the east.

national level.²⁵ Nigeria is a distinct bridge in East Central Africa, which is mostly in the east and central, who live mostly in the producing major foreign imports, such as those native to the United States, United Kingdom, and Japan.²⁸ Nigeria's constitution ensures freedom of

This New Sea Slug Can Cut Off Its Own Head & Still Live For Months (Pics, Video) by TheCaldeira (7396)

Two species of sea slugs can regrow their heads after they have been severed from the bodies. Now, scientists in Japan recently discovered the regeneration trait of regeneration can be achieved in just a couple of weeks and is absolutely mind-blowing.

Most cases of animal regeneration — including humans — just begin with an external replacement — like when your hair falls out or you break a bone — but these are unique, which makes it a groundbreaking discovery. Let's take it to the next level by regrowing an entire new body from just their heads, which they seem to be able to detach from their original bodies on command.
